STOP THROWING MONEY OUT THE WINDOW!!

With everyone's energy costs rising so rapidly and our economy in question at least for another couple of years, we are all starting to look for easy ways to cut energy use and save money.

Save money by saving energy. The Environmental Protection Agency and the U.S. Dept. of Energy have stated that a home or structure with solar screens can require up to 50% less energy to stay cool, and may be the single most cost effective source of controlling heat gain and lowering utilities in your home or business.
